

Don Raffo Season Trilogy - "Full Broadside" - Season 1

The first issue of the first season "Full Broadside", from the Don Raffo season trilogy, starts with a first print run of 6 million copies. The booklet format will be A4, with approx. 40 pages in colour and will be published at the end of 2020 in all German and English speaking countries as well as in Japan. The really very expressive "Heroes", drawn in high-quality Marvel style, shape the new term "Realitycomic" and are simply the way to an unusually captivating, lively, funny, new and attractive genre. This applies to the German-speaking as well as the international, comic scene. The levels of action for almost all events with Don Raffo and his "heroes" are typically German prisons. The strange, unimaginable, exciting and very often humorous stories of Don Raffo and his likeable slit ears that take place there are simply new and fascinating. They are based on real experiences of the author, called in the prison kitchen (King George, the kitchen boss). All "heroes" are named with their consent, in all three seasons of the "Don Raffo" trilogy, with their own name or nickname. Similarities in name with public figures are unintentional and of course purely coincidental.

Author of Don Raffo,

George Paetsch