

Don Raffo comes internationally

The first season of "Full Broadside", the Don Raffo trilogy, will come in 2022, in German, English and Japanese, with a first print run of around six million copies. In each issue there are real stories on 45 extraordinary pages that you simply have to read and see in the strongly drawn Marvel style. The very expressive "heroes" shape the style of the "reality comic". This guarantees a real new, captivating, humorous experience in the entire comic's scene. The levels of action for all events are the typical German prisons. The weird, bizarre and often very humorous stories of "normal" everyday life that take place there are simply fascinating. They are based on real experiences of the author "King George, the kitchen boss".

Author of Don Raffo,
